

SP already distributing posts before polls: Rajbhar takes a dig at Akhilesh

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
Lucknow, 22 September

Om Prakash Rajbhar, president of the Suheldev Bharatiya Samaj Party (SBSP) and Panchayati Raj Minister in the Yogi Adityanath government in Uttar Pradesh, targeted Samajwadi Party (SP) President Akhilesh Yadav over a statement by SP National General Secretary Indrajit Saroj.

He sarcastically said that the Assembly elections have not yet been held, but the SP is already dreaming of distributing ministerial positions and departments.

In a post on the social media platform X on Tuesday, Rajbhar referred to Saroj's statement that no one would be able to stop him from becoming a minister if the SP forms the government in 2027.

Saroj had said that since he stood by the party during its bad times, he would become the most important minister.

The SBSP president questioned Saroj's comments regarding JCBs, dumpers, and sand mining. Taking aim at Akhilesh Yadav, he asked why discussions about ministerial positions and granting workers permission to dig sand and soil using JCBs and dumpers are already underway before the elections. "Is this election preparation underway, or are calculations for ministerial positions and sand and soil being made before the government is even formed?" he asked.

He said that the people of Uttar Pradesh are not empty seats that can be occupied by anyone at will. The verdict of the people's court should be allowed first, and then the division of departments should be discussed.

Taking a dig at Akhilesh Yadav, he asked which other SP leaders have dreamt of which departments for the year 2027.

Mr Rajbhar also made a sarcastic remark in his post, referring to Chachu. He said that he too is waiting for his department. He asked if he would be given the PWD or the Irrigation Department, even if it were a dream, so he could sleep better.

Jairam Ramesh questions delay in Ayodhya temple theft charge sheet

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
New Delhi, 22 September

Congress general secretary in-charge communications Jairam Ramesh on Tuesday questioned the delay in filing a chargesheet in the alleged theft of offerings at the Ram temple in Ayodhya, saying nearly three months after the investigation began, the accused were yet to face prosecution.

In a statement posted on X under the heading "Chanda Chori, Aastha Dhokha" (Donation Theft, Betrayal of Faith), Ramesh said only three days were left for three months to be completed since the investigation began, but the chargesheet had still not been filed.

He warned that failure to file the chargesheet by 25 September could enable the accused he described as the "minor players" to secure bail. Ramesh called the alleged theft of temple offerings one of the country's most shameful cases involving an institution of religious faith.

"Dekho o BJP walo, tum ye kaam na karo, Ram ka naam badnaam na karo, badnaam na karo!" he said.

Ramesh also questioned the credibility of the Special Investigation Team probing the case, saying people would have little confidence in an investigation or government chargesheet if there remained a possibility of the "big fish" being protected.

He claimed that the investigation had now acknowledged that the alleged theft of offerings had been captured on CCTV on 105 occasions, rather than 70 instances cited earlier.

"It is not difficult to understand why there is a delay in filing the chargesheet. The issue is to divert attention from the big thieves and their protectors," Ramesh alleged.

The Congress leader asked who was protecting the alleged masterminds behind what he described as a systematic theft of offerings at the Ram temple and why the "big fish" had not yet faced action or stringent questioning.

Ramesh also questioned Prime Minister Narendra Modi's silence over the matter, alleging that questions were being raised about the alleged assistance provided to those accused in the case.

"Why has no action been taken against the big fish in the case? When will they be subjected to stringent questioning?" he asked.

He further questioned why there was resistance to an investigation under the supervision of the Supreme Court and why the temple trust had not been dissolved.

Ramesh alleged that the SIT investigation was being used by BJP-led governments to protect those accused of the alleged theft who, he claimed, had links with the BJP and RSS. He said accountability should extend beyond the accused to those responsible for supervising the system under which the alleged irregularities took place.

"Prime Minister ji, remember that you will have to answer for your silence on this serious matter concerning the faith of the country," Ramesh said.

PM-RAHAT, RAH-VEER to bolster Assam's road accident response: Himanta Biswa Sarma

Guwahati, 22 September

Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma on Tuesday highlighted the importance of timely assistance in saving lives following road accidents, saying initiatives such as PM-RAHAT and RAH-VEER would strengthen the state's first-response mechanism.

"A road accident can change a life in seconds. Timely help can make all the difference," Sarma said in a post on social media. The Chief Minister said PM-RAHAT, which focuses on providing timely assistance to road accident victims, along with RAH-VEER, which encourages citizens to step forward and help accident victims, would strengthen emergency response on roads.

"With PM-RAHAT enabling quick assistance and RAH-VEER encouraging citizens to step forward, we are strengthening the first response to accidents," Sarma said.

He added that road safety was not limited to preventing accidents but also depended on how quickly assistance reached injured persons following a crash.

"A safer Assam is also about how quickly we act when a life is at risk," he said.

The initiatives come against the backdrop of continued efforts by governments and road safety agencies to reduce fatalities resulting from road accidents and improve the response during the crucial period immediately after a crash.

Under the broader road safety framework, timely medical intervention is considered critical for accident victims, particularly in cases involving serious trauma and injuries.

The RAH-VEER initiative seeks to encourage members of the public to assist road accident victims and help ensure that injured persons receive timely medical attention. Such assistance is also intended to strengthen the chain of response between the occurrence of an accident and the arrival of professional emergency services.

PM-RAHAT is aimed at ensuring access to prompt financial assistance for accident victims requiring emergency treatment, thereby reducing delays in accessing healthcare.

Congress seeks independent probe into 'murderous attack' on leaders in Assam, demands suspension of erring officers

New Delhi, 22 September

The Congress on Monday condemned the alleged attack on its leaders, including former Chhattisgarh Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel and Assam Pradesh Congress Committee president Gaurav Gogoi, during an election campaign in Assam's Nagaon district, and demanded an independent probe by the Election Commission of India, along with suspension of officials accused of failing to prevent the violence.

Addressing a press conference in New Delhi, Congress general secretary Dr Naseer Hussain described Sunday's incident as a "murderous attack" by masked men on senior Congress leaders, alleging that the attackers were armed with iron rods and other weapons and carried black flags. He said the incident was intended to intimidate Opposition leaders, party workers and voters during the election campaign.

"This is a clear attempt to subvert and undermine democracy in the country," Hussain said, alleging that the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party resorts to "violence and fear-mongering" whenever it feels weakened or apprehends defeat in an election.

Questioning the Election Commission's alleged silence over the incident, Hussain asked why no action had been taken and whether the poll panel was ensuring free and fair elections. He urged the Commission to order an independent investigation and "stop discriminating against Opposition parties".

According to Hussain, the Assam Pradesh Congress Committee had alerted the administration about the possibility of trouble in advance, but no preventive measures were taken. He alleged that the incident was therefore not merely a law-and-order failure but also raised questions about the conduct of the electoral process. The Congress leader said two journalists were also allegedly manhandled during the incident, prompting members of the journalist fraternity to stage a protest dharna. The protest was called off after the police apologised to the journalists, he claimed.

Hussain alleged that the incident was part of a broader pattern of intimidation aimed at discouraging Opposition workers and voters from participating in elections. "Whenever the BJP starts feeling weak and apprehends that it is going to lose an election, it resorts to such tactics," he said, alleging that the objective was to create fear and lower voter turnout in a manner that could benefit the ruling party.

Linking the Nagaon incident to the Congress's broader allegation of "vote-chori", Hussain accused the BJP of using intimidation alongside other alleged methods to undermine Opposition parties.

Arunachal final voter list puts electorate at 6.96 lakh

Itanagar, 22 September

The final Photo Electoral Rolls for all 60 Assembly Constituencies of Arunachal Pradesh were published on Tuesday following completion of the Special Intensive Revision (SIR) of electoral rolls, 2026.

According to the Office of the Chief Electoral Officer, Arunachal Pradesh, the final electoral roll has 6,96,026 electors, including 3,43,709 males, 3,52,315 females and two third-grade electors. The gender ratio stands at 1,025, while the elector-population ratio is 43.61.

The SIR began in June following instructions from the Election Commission of India.

Prior to the SIR, the State had 8,87,505 electors as of 2 June, Chief Electoral Officer (CEO) Pawan Kumar Sain said.

He said enumeration forms were distributed to all 8,87,505 electors through BLOs, of which 7,18,046 were received back. The remaining 1,69,459 electors were excluded from the draft roll, with the reasons categorised as absent/untraceable (54,678), shifted (78,980), death (25,573), duplicate (4,947) and others (5,281). The draft electoral roll published on 21 July contained 7,18,046 electors. Of these, 6,32,871 were either mapped as self or as progeny, while 85,175 remained unmapped. Notices were subsequently served to the unmapped electors and another 1,33,413 electors with logical discrepancies, for verification during the notice phase from 21 July to 18 September.

During the claims and objections period from July 21 to August 20, a total of 18,598 forms were received through online and offline modes. Following verification and hearings, 8,803 electors were added and 1,924 deleted from the draft roll.

The CEO's office said 28,899 electors were found ineligible during the hearing process, whose documents were found inadmissible/unsatisfactory.

The final roll can be verified at the offices of Electoral Registration Officers (EROs), Assistant Electoral Registration Officers (AEROs) and Booth Level Officers (BLOs). Digital copies are also available on the CEO Arunachal Pradesh website, Sain said.

The final electoral roll for service voters, with July 1, 2026 as the qualifying date, was also published on Tuesday, with 5,552 service electors enrolled.

An appeal against an ERO's decision may be filed before the District Magistrate within 15 days of publication of the final roll. A second appeal may be preferred before the Chief Electoral Officer within 30 days of the District Magistrate's order.

The CEO said applications for inclusion, correction or deletion may be submitted through Forms 6, 8 and 7 respectively, either online or offline.

Six remanded in custody over killing of Assam Regiment jawan in Mizoram

STATESMAN NEWS SERVICE
Aizawl, 22 September

Six people arrested in connection with the killing of a 29-year-old Assam Regiment jawan near Bualpui village in Mizoram's Kolasib district have been remanded in judicial custody, police said on Tuesday. The accused were produced before the court and subsequently lodged at the Kolasib District Prison and Correctional Centre, police officials said. They were formally booked at Kawnpui Police Station under Section 103(1), 115 and 3(6) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita, 2023, along with Section 6(2) of the Mizoram Liquor Prohibition Act, 2019.

The accused have been identified as Zoremthangi, 38, and five men - Emmanuel Lalthanhlama, 27, Lalhundika, 29, Lalnunfima, 26, David Remruatpuia, 18, and Malsawmtluanga, 24. All six are residents of Hmar Veng locality in Kawnpui town.

Two other accused in the case are minors. They have not been kept in police custody or sent to judicial custody, and are currently under the supervision of the district Juvenile Justice Board, officials said. The victim, Zakaria Lahriattluanga, was returning to his native New Builum village after completing his posting in Jammu and Kashmir. He had arrived in Mizoram through Lengpui airport near Aizawl on Sunday and was travelling north towards his home in a truck driven by a friend who had gone to pick him up from the airport.

The incident occurred near Bualpui along National Highway 306, in the vicinity of the Coffee Board's plantation area. According to reports, trouble began after two trucks encountered difficulty passing each other on a badly damaged stretch of road. An argument reportedly broke out between the drivers, following which a group of youths allegedly became involved.

The youths are accused of assaulting Lahriattluanga's friend. The jawan reportedly intervened in an attempt to help his friend and was attacked in the process. He succumbed to his injuries.

Apost-mortem examination was conducted before the jawan's body was taken for burial. Lahriattluanga was laid to rest on Monday with full military honours.

Police have booked the accused under provisions relating to culpable homicide amounting to murder, voluntarily causing hurt and common liability, besides provisions of the state liquor prohibition law.
